The United States Department of Transportation (USDOT) Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization (OSDBU) wants to ensure that small business gets their fair share of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act. The $1.2 trillion Senate bill allocated $550 billion in new spending on transportation, water and power infrastructure, and pollution cleanup, in addition to regular annual spending on infrastructure projects.

USDOT and West Central USDOT are holding a Small Business Contracting Symposium on May 18th. This Virtual Conference will inform businesses about where opportunities will be and connect businesses with resources to help them be ready to do that work. USDOT wants to ensure that small businesses are included in the roll-out of this Infrastructure Bill.

We will have representatives from USDOT, FAA, FHWA, State DOT Leaders and the USDOT West Central Small Business Transportation Resource Center addressing small businesses at this symposium. The morning starts at 9:00am MST with speakers and panels. From 3:00pm-5:00pm, there will be a one-on-one marketplace to match small businesses to primes, agencies and supportive services.
